

A pocket atlas, 170 x 105 mm., was published by Moffatt & Paige of London about 1882. Its paper covers, with the title, contents list and imprint all printed on the front, contain twenty-four uncoloured numbered plates. These include nineteen maps about 90 x 120 mm. with the imprint of Moffatt & Paige at the foot, with some* having several insets, hence the number 55 in the subtitle:

*Map of geographical terms; Map of the World; England & Wales physical map; England & Wales political map; England & Wales railway map; Scotland; Ireland; Europe physical map; Europe political map; General index to British possessions; South Africa*; Indian Empire*; New Zealand*; Australia; Canada*; Asia; Africa; North America; South America.*

A later issue, also undated, had new and improved versions of these same maps. The conjectural dating is based on the accession dates of copies in the British Library.

Moffatt's Penny atlas: 55 maps and diagrams. London, Moffatt & Paige, (1882), (1885).
